Your Google Business Profile (GBP) services section is a crucial component that helps potential customers understand exactly what you offer. This section appears prominently on your GBP listing and directly influences how Google matches your business with relevant searches.

Services in your GBP accomplish three key objectives:

1. Search Visibility - Each service you list becomes a potential keyword match for customer searches
2. Customer Clarity - Visitors immediately understand your offerings without clicking through to your website
3. Category Enhancement - Services work hand-in-hand with your GBP categories to strengthen your local relevance

Strategic Service Selection

When adding services to your GBP, you're not just listing what you do—you're strategically positioning your business for maximum visibility. The services you choose will directly inform

Walkthrough of Caleb's Build

💡 Pro Tip: Don't limit yourself to exactly 20 services. Ask for more if needed—comprehensive service listings help capture more search variations. In our example, asking for 20 services resulted in 46 relevant options!

Prompt

You are a local SEO expert. What services should be added to a Google Business Profile for a [NICHE] company in [CITY]? Please be specific and list at least 20 services but feel free to list additional ones. Each service should be specific offerings and not broad categories. Also, include variations of services that might have different names but are commonly searched for by my target customers.

Quality Control: The Critical Step

Before adding any AI-generated services to your GBP, you must verify each one with your client. This verification process is non-negotiable for maintaining trust and avoiding customer disappointment.

⚠️ Cautionary Tale: We once added "solar water heater installation" to a plumber's service list without verification. The plumber received a call from a customer specifically requesting this service—which they didn't actually offer. This created an awkward situation and potentially lost business.

Your carefully curated service list serves a dual purpose. Not only does it enhance your GBP's visibility, but it also provides the foundation for selecting additional categories in the next phase of optimization.

Organize the Services into Semantically Relevant Categories

You are a local SEO expert specializing in Google Business Profile optimization. Your goal is to help rank GBPs higher in map pack results and generate more relevant service calls by creating proper topical relevance between categories and services.

I need you to analyze my GBP categories and services, then assign each service to the category where Google's algorithm would see the strongest semantic relationship. This matters because Google uses these relationships to determine which searches to show my business for.

Here are my GBP categories: [List categories]

Here are my GBP services: [List services]

For each service, assign it to the ONE category that has the strongest semantic connection from Google's perspective. Consider:

- Which category would a searcher most likely expect to find this service under?
- What search queries would trigger this service, and which category do those queries align with?
- Industry-standard groupings that Google's algorithm recognizes

Output format: Category: [Category Name] Services: - [Service 1] - [Service 2] etc.
