Setting Up Claude Projects for SEO Content Production

Learn how to structure and configure Claude AI projects for streamlined copywriting workflows, from outline generation to client-specific content creation.

What You'll Learn

This lesson takes you inside an actual agency's Claude workspace to show you the exact project structure used for high-volume SEO content production. You'll see how to organize projects by content type (supporting, category, service, neighborhood pages) and by individual clients, plus how to configure each project for optimal results.

The tutorial demonstrates the complete workflow from outline generation to final content creation, including how to properly set up project instructions with GBP (Google Business Profile) data, client background information, and ongoing client feedback. You'll discover how to handle both single and multi-location clients, and learn the critical technique of uploading before/after content examples to train Claude on client preferences over time.
